"There is an inescapable personal responsibility for the development of character, of industry, of thrift, and of self-control. These do not come from the government, but from the people themselves. . . . Mere intelligence, however, is not enough. Enlightenment must be accompanied by that moral power which is the product of home and religion. Real education and true welfare for the people rest inevitably on this foundation, which the government can approve and commend, but which the people themselves must create."

—President Coolidge, Annual Message, December, 1923.

Rational Dictation

by

Dr. Edward J. McNamara, Principal, and Mark I. Markett, Chairman Department of Stenography, High School of Commerce, New York City

"Rational Dictation," written by two of the best-known shorthand teachers in the country, is new in both content and method. The book contains about 480 pages of material, and is divided into three parts:

- 1. Letters from Regents Examinations (193 letters)
- 2. Actual correspondence pertaining to various types of business (332 letters)
- 3. Articles (63 articles)

In addition to the actual dictation letters, the book contains eight pages of models of letterheads, complimentary closing, signatures, etc., and a classified index of letters. The letters are numbered in sequence, beginning with (1) in each part. In addition to this sequence number, there is a number referring to the next letter in that classification. This plan will enable teachers to group letters according to types of business where such classification is deemed desirable.

Shorthand Vocabulary

All letters and articles are accompanied by a shorthand vocabulary of important or difficult words and phrases. These outlines are printed in the left margin of the page. The shorthand outlines, as far as possible, are placed opposite the lines in which the words or phrases are to be found.

Syllabic Intensity

This book is graded according to syllabic intensity, ranging from 1.22 to 1.87.

A Companion to Gregg Speed Studies

"Rational Dictation" is not a substitute for "Gregg Speed Studies." Best results will be obtained by using the first 140 pages of "Gregg Speed Studies" along with the "Manual," and by correlating the remaining lessons in "Speed Studies" with the letters and articles in "Rational Dictation."

With the Compliments of The Gregg Writer

EVERY teacher sending us the subscriptions of more than 90% of his pupils will receive, as a mark of our appreciation, the special de luxe volume prepared by The Gregg Writer for the present school year. The book, entitled Short Classics in Shorthand, contains five of the great short story masterpieces of the English language. It is bound in full morocco, with round corners, gold stamping and full gold edges.

SHORT CLASSICS IN SHORTHAND is the fourth and most beautiful of the de luxe editions prepared by The Gregg Writer for the pleasure and convenience of our teacher friends who have so loyally helped us to fulfill our mission of making the teaching and learning of shorthand easier, more enjoyable and more profitable for everybody concerned. The book is not for sale, as we want to be sure that there will be a presentation copy for every teacher sending us a 90% subscription list.

If you are not familiar with The Gregg Writer, we shall be glad to send sample copies and further information on request.
